Employee guide

Working in the CizaImmo console, step by step.

Welcome to the CizaImmo team. This guide is for platform employees: it explains how to work in the console, complete your employee file, handle client files and manage your pay and your expenses. Keep it close at hand, especially during your first weeks.

WELCOME — YOUR ROLE

What the console is for

- The console is the platform team's working tool: it is where client accounts are examined, followed and supported, from the day they sign up to their subscription.
- In it, you handle client files, reply to their messages, follow the showcase listings and manage your own employee file.
- Every action you take in the console is recorded in the audit log, with your name, the date and the time: always work as if the Super Admin were reading over your shoulder — they are.

The golden rule: the database decides

- In CizaImmo, the frontend decides nothing: the database is the source of truth. A status, a right or an amount is only true if it is in the database.
- What you cannot see is not meant for you: if a screen, a file or an amount does not appear, it is because your role does not give you access to it — it is not a bug.
- Never work around a blockage through another path: if the platform refuses an action, there is a reason in the database. Escalate the case to the Super Admin.

What the platform expects of you

- Accuracy: every piece of information you record (checklist, reason, message) commits the platform towards the client.
- Responsiveness: a pending file is a client waiting; handle items as soon as they are complete.
- Discretion: files contain ID documents and proofs of ownership — sensitive data, to be handled as such.

FIRST SIGN-IN

The confidentiality charter

- At your first sign-in to the console, the confidentiality charter is displayed full screen: read it in full before continuing.
- It sets out your commitments: never disclose client data, only open the files your work requires, copy nothing outside the platform.
- Your acceptance is dated and stored in the database: it is your signature on the charter.

The Admin menu

- Overview: the day's figures — accounts pending, unread messages, recent activity.
- Accounts: the list of clients and access to each one's complete file.
- Managers and My files: the connections, and the client files the Super Admin has assigned to you.
- My employee file: your employee journey, your contract, your card and your pay.
- Messages and Supervised messages: the clients' threads, and the owner ↔ manager exchanges in read-only mode.
- Showcase and Pay & Expenses: the listings to validate, your pay and your expense requests.

The Super Admin, in addition

- Team: the platform's members, their employee files and the promotions.
- Verify an employee: checking employee cards against the database.
- Journal: the platform's complete audit log.
- Decisions and settings: approving and refusing accounts, pricing, finances and deletions.

MY EMPLOYEE FILE — THE JOURNEY

1 Complete your file

- Profile photo, ID document and phone number: the same documents as a client's file.
- Your full postal address — street address, city and country (the postal code is optional): the piece that belongs to employees.
- Each section is shown in read-only view, with its “Edit” button: nothing to rewrite as long as nothing changes.
- Completeness is computed by the platform: the file switches to “Complete” as soon as everything is there.

2 Accept the charter

- Displayed at your first sign-in to the console, the charter waits for your dated acceptance.
- Once accepted, the step turns green in your progress — you will not see it again at every sign-in.

3 Sign and upload your contract

- The Super Admin prepares your contract (an employment contract in Burundi, or a services contract outside Burundi) and you receive it by email, as a PDF.
- Read it, sign it, then upload the signed document in My employee file: PDF, JPG, PNG and even HEIC (iPhone photos) are accepted.
- The Super Admin checks the uploaded document and validates it — or refuses it with a reason, and you then upload a corrected version.
- Once validated, the result line appears in your file: “Document validated: {file name} — uploaded on {date}”.

4 Receive your employee card

- The card is only issued when both conditions are met: complete file AND validated contract.
- It carries your photo, your name, your role, your Display ID and a barcode that encodes that Display ID.
- Download it as a PDF or print it from My employee file; its format is that of a standard card (85.6 × 54 mm).
- Its barcode is used for verification: the Super Admin compares it against the database (Verify an employee page) — the card of a suspended account no longer passes.

YOUR PAYMENT DETAILS

Depending on your payment method

- Bank transfer: the bank name and the account number are required; the branch, the IBAN and the SWIFT code are optional. The account holder's name is always required.
- Mobile money: the operator and the phone number that will receive the pay.
- Cash: only the holder's name is required.

The pay rule

- Incomplete payment details block the issuing of your pay: complete them as soon as you arrive, before your first pay.
- Your pay amount is the one in your validated contract; when it is issued, your payment destination is frozen on the slip — update your details before the end of the month if they change.
- And the absolute rule: no validated contract, no pay — a contract that is only prepared or uploaded is not enough.

YOUR DAY-TO-DAY WORK

Handling client accounts

- Open the file from Accounts: identity, documents received, declared buildings, connections and history are all gathered there.
- The review checklist guides you: profile photo, ID document, file information — tick each item only after you have actually checked it; your review is recorded with your name.
- Client documents open in read-only view from the file: check that they are legible and that they match what is declared.
- Approving and refusing an account are reserved to the Super Admin: your job is to prepare the file until it is ready for the decision.

My files

- These are the client files the Super Admin has entrusted to you: they appear in “My files”.
- Assignment is a responsibility, not a restriction: you follow these files as a priority and you answer for their progress.

Messages

- Reply to clients from their file's thread or from the Messages page: the badge shows the unread messages, and the full thread is in the client's file, Messages section.
- Threads between an owner and their manager are read in Supervised messages, in read-only mode: the platform supervises, it does not write in the clients' place.
- Keep a professional tone and short, useful replies: the client sees everything you write.

The listings showcase

- Listings of vacant apartments (Pro and Agency plans) wait for the platform's validation before going public.
- Check the price, the photos and the advertised contact; in case of refusal, a reason is required and it is sent to the client.
- Any change to the price, the photos or the contact on an already approved listing automatically sends it back to pending.

Client documents

- Proofs of ownership, management authorizations, ID documents: the documents live in the client's file and in each building's file.
- They stay private: visible only to the client concerned and to the platform team.

SUPER ADMIN — THE EXTRA POWERS

Approve or refuse an account

- The Approve button stays greyed out until the review checklist is complete: photo, ID document and information verified.
- On approval, the 30-day Starter trial starts and the client receives their welcome email, with their contract and the user guide.
- A refusal requires a reason: it is sent to the client and recorded in the journal.

Assign files

- From the Team page or the client's file, name the responsible Admin: they will find the file in “My files”.
- Reassigning is possible at any time; every assignment is recorded in the journal.

Prepare and validate employee contracts

- Prepare the contract from the employee's file: track (employment or services), type, amount, currency and dates.
- The employee receives the PDF by email, signs it and uploads it; you validate the uploaded document — or refuse it with a reason.
- Validating the contract unlocks the employee card and the issuing of pay.

Verify an employee

- Search for the employee in the list (by name or by Display ID, accents are ignored) or enter their Display ID directly.
- The verdict compares the card presented against the database: CARD VALID (green) if it is issued and the account is active; CARD NOT ISSUED (amber) if the journey is not finished; NOT VALID (red) if the account is suspended.
- This is the tool to use when someone presents a CizaImmo employee card, in person or in a photo.

The audit log

- Everything is recorded there: approvals, validations, assignments, pays, views of supervised threads — with the actor, the date and the time.
- Mark entries as read as you review them; archive the ones that are handled to keep the page clear.
- The list is paginated (20 entries per page) and can be filtered by action, by actor and by period.

PAY & EXPENSES

Your pay — “My pay and my expenses”

- Your pay line for the month shows the amount in your contract, your recorded payment destination and the issue date.
- The payslip (PDF) downloads from your line: it carries the CizaImmo and Ciza Group logos, your identity and the amount paid.
- Strict scope: you only see your own pay — never your colleagues', never anyone else's expenses.

My expense requests

- Enter your operating expenses: date, label, category, amount, currency, and a supporting document if you have one (PDF, JPG, PNG or HEIC).
- Each request starts out “pending”: it is validated or refused by the Super Admin — you can never validate your own.
- You follow the status of your requests on the same page; in case of refusal, the reason is displayed.

On the Super Admin side

Pays are issued from the Finances page, employee by employee — complete file, validated contract and complete payment details required. The whole team's expenses are validated or refused there, with a reason, and the month's totals are read there per currency, with no invented conversion.

GOOD PRACTICES

Day to day

- Only open the files you need for your work: every opening is an access to sensitive data.
- Write every refusal reason or decision as if the client were going to read it: clear, factual, with no personal comment.
- Never take data out of the platform: no screenshot and no copy of an ID document to a personal phone or messaging app.
- Always check that the name, the Display ID and the file match before acting on an account.
- When in doubt about a document or a situation, do not decide alone: escalate the case to the Super Admin.

Your account security

- Your password is personal: never share it, not even with a colleague.
- Sign out of the console on any shared device.
- Report to the Super Admin any access or message that seems suspicious to you.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

A file upload button does not react, what should I do?

Check the file format: PDF, JPG, PNG or HEIC are accepted, up to 10 MB. On a phone, tap the form's button again to reopen the picker; if the problem persists, try another file or report the case to the Super Admin.

My card shows “not issued”, why?

Because one of the two conditions is missing: complete file or validated contract. Open My employee file and follow your progress step by step; if everything is green and the card still does not appear, contact the Super Admin.

I cannot find a client's file.

“My files” only shows the files assigned to you. The complete file is in Accounts, by the client's name or Display ID. If it appears nowhere, the client may not be registered yet — ask the Super Admin.

Why can I not approve this account?

Because approving and refusing are reserved to the Super Admin, who checks the payment method in particular. Your role: prepare the file — documents checked, checklist ticked, messages handled. When everything is ready, the Super Admin decides.

My pay for the month does not appear.

Pay is issued by the Super Admin, and it requires a validated contract and complete payment details. Check your details in My employee file; if everything is complete, the issue may simply still be in progress.

Who do I contact if I am stuck?

The platform's Super Admin, first of all. For a general question: infos@cizagroup.com · WhatsApp +1 514 502 9503.

> Key takeaway
>
> Complete file + validated contract = card issued and pay possible. Everything else follows the same logic: in CizaImmo, it is always the database that decides.
